2- Year Old - 3 day class

We can't believe this was the second to last week at school! It seems like yesterday we met your children, they have grown so much since then. We are still discussing our senses and worked on smell and touch this week. We used our noses Monday to sniff spices to celebrate Havdallah. The children always enjoy Havdallah, and adding a discussion of smell was fun! On Wednesday we explored touch, feeling slime, paper and other things around the room. We spent time outside enjoying the beautiful weather and time inside enjoying our books. We also got to watch the three year old class do a sight experiment on the playground. Morah Amy F dropped a mento into soda and we saw the eruption! The children loved it!

2-Year-Old – 5 day class

This week we conceded on Season and one of our favorite one is Spring.

The children enjoyed listening stories about Seasons and comparing the differences between cold and hot.

For father's day we decided to make beautiful flowers, color them, glue them and paint them. Then we decorated cups and created a beautiful display. We hope the dads enjoy.

The children had a great time at the playground as long there is no rain !

3-Year-Old Class

Spring has been in the air this week! Some days it's even felt like perhaps summer is approaching. Perfect for our theme of seasons this week. We used our senses to search for signs of spring and summer. We saw that the trees are full of leaves now so created leaves for our classroom tree.

Realizing that our world is replete with color, we explored using colored lenses and made binoculars for further exploration outside. We looked up, down, and all around, seeing lots of things -- birds, berries, insects, flowers, weeds, clouds, even each other!. The children in this class have had an ongoing fascination with insects so spring has been a wonderful time of exploration. Bug books and a bug board game are big hits!

As we start to wind down the school year and transition to summertime, we are starting to say goodbye to some of our classroom toys. A final play with a toy is bittersweet.

Shhh, we've started making Father's Day gifts. It's a secret though!

Happy Birthday to Yaakov who turned 4 this week! Thank you for bringing your Brachos puzzle to share. We loved putting it together!

Shabbat Shalom!

Pre K Class

Our alphabet is now complete. The letter Z was Zanderiffic and absolutely amaZing!

We feel extremely accomplished, smarter because we understand that we have learned so much this year. The children are extremely proud about their accomplishment and learning.

The whole entire ABC book will be sent home next week. There are a few final touches the children would like to make in order to make it just right.

We've been practicing the entire Alef is for Avraham song and Graduation poem. We're so looking forward to graduation next Thursday. The children have planned a very special surprise.

We are all looking forward to showing you what we've learned.

Shabbat Shalom.
